

Gorge Handweavers Guild Report, Spring 2020

By Kathy O'Hern

Currently 29 Members

Aren't we blessed to be weavers! According to news reports, people are going stir-crazy as they "social distance" and "self-quarantine". Not weavers! We are catching up on projects we didn't complete during the winter, stash-busting, and trying out new weave structures. There are many online weaving courses, videos, and blogs that help us stay connected with the weaving community. We are so lucky to have weaving in our lives during these troubling times. I'm feeling truly grateful.

Gorge Handweavers Guild members stayed busy weaving last winter; see a small sampling of projects below:

Weaving projects using painted warps

A huck lace structure wool blanket

Above: Handwoven towels
Above right: garden insects
Below: overshot
Below right: towels fresh off the loom

