

Heritage Textile Arts Guild
Fall report, 2021

Our guild's first in person meeting was held in May. Everyone was thrilled to be together again. There was lots of sharing of completed projects and planning for upcoming meetings.

June brought planning for a dye workshop using the WeGo scholarship. We decided to have Janis Thompson teach a one day class in August. We also moved our 8 shaft guild loom to our "barn" meeting space. Yvonne O. Offered to set up and demonstrate overshot weaving leaving enough warp for everyone to practice the technique.

July meeting: we finalized plans for the dye workshop and made commitments for the guild booth at Blackberry Arts Festival in August.

Unfortunately the Delta surge happened forcing us to cancel August and September meetings and events.

The October meeting was again held in person and planning for the November workshop on making felted gnomes and the January Krokbragh class using the guild loom in a round robin format.

New officers were elected in June but didn't actually begin their duties until October.
