

COLUMBIA FIBRES GUILD WEGO UPDATES. Cheryl Richardson

Guild has been very busy. We have taken on Timberline Lodge project of helping with repair of the drapery. Beth Hartwell has gone up and got several packets to divide between members that have good sewing ability and working on them at home.

We won the Wego scholarship and hopefully will have pinned down an instructor we will be able to have come, looking at natural dying if possible.

NOVEMBER- Zoom only meeting due to schedule conflict with the library. Mary Davis showed presentation regarding a Tapestry class she took from the scholarship she won last year.

DECEMBER- Had a Luncheon at Columbia Historic Hotel and several members knitted small items (sweaters,hats,wreaths) that were used as place settings. We had a white elephant exchange that had to be fiber related and had a great time. This was the first in person luncheon we have had since Covid. Hopefully we will continue.

JANUARY- Presentation on Wet Felting a purse by Nancy Skakel.

FEBRUARY- Dorald Stoltz and Pam Sullivan gave zoom presentation on State Fair requirements to help entering fair items and coming to demonstrate. Very informative.

MARCH- Zoom presentation by Judith Mackenzie about rare breeds of wool.

APRIL- Tour of Pendleton Woolen Mills, Washougal Washington and lunch to follow.

Weekly the spinners plan a different place to meet. TODAY we are doing a Sheep to Shawl at our yearly Family Fun Festival that we will raffle off to raise money for our scholarship fund. I am one of the weavers so will be leaving early from todays meeting to get weaving
