Brookings, OR

Spring 2024

Last November we selected our Guild challenge which will be making placemats inspired by the ones in the Sept/Oct 2023 issue of Handwoven using any pattern of choice of M's and O's from the Marguerite Davison pattern book. 5 people said they would participate. This will be an exchange with one of our placemats going to each of the other participants. The exchange will happen at our Dec luncheon. We will all use the same natural color warp and it's weaver's choice of Sugar and Cream color(s) for weft.

Dec was our annual luncheon and this year we decided not to have a white elephant or cookie exchange. We just had a no stress lunch.

January, we planned out our monthly programs. This time giving us a couple meetings to finish up with projects.

February, we started on coiled baskets taught by JoAnn Sutter. We decided that coiled "plates" would be easier. We continued on with them at our March meeting.

April, we will be watching DVD's, have watched by this meeting, on woven shibori by Diane Totten that we purchased after her session at Conference.
