Saturday Handweavers Guild Report
Oct 17, 2026

Note: at each meeting, towels and napkins are accepted for donation to our Habitat for Humanity Outreach project.

May 2026

In May the guild hosted Patti Huffer for a "Many Faces of Overshot" workshop. The Program for the meeting was A step-by-step demonstration for each member to make their very own "inklings.' The name comes from Karla Taylor who wrote an article in Handwoven (Nov/Dec 93) describing how she made "inklings." There were many interesting pieces that were displayed at the June meeting.

June 2026

We had a potluck lunch followed by the business meeting. We elected officers for 2026-27, and approved a working budget as well. The guild has ordered Weft Magazine for the guild library. We had a discussion about exhibiting at the Start Fair and that Cathy Hamm would arrange the transportation of items.

September 2026

The September meeting was fun as we shared our summer activities. Some of us wove a lot and some almost nothing, preferring to be outdoors! We received our annual Guild Challenge: The Soundtrack of Weaving. We are to try to weave a melody. Create a rhythm in the warp, beat, and weft.

October2026

Our Presentation this month was by Kathrin Weber from Blazing Saddles, via Zoom. It was a four-hour online workshop called "Controlling Creative Chaos: focus on the warp." We learned about their process, dyeing and creating color palettes, etc. It was a wonderful presentation!

Charlotte collected woven, spun, knitted items for our display in the Jacksonville Library window. Stephanie collected towels for our Habitat for Humanity fundraising auction.
We voted to approve a $100 donation to ANWG for the Conference.
